From [] report of [] presentation on 19 July 1965, I am unable to determine that the work which they are performing will tell us much about the problems of interfacing automatic control with receivers and particularly providing an indication of the state of the art in this area. It looks more as though we are in the process of doing System 18 all over again only this time on the ground. If we can't straighten out the direction of this work, I suggest we cancel the contract.
